

INTRODUCTION

WHAT WE DO

3EcoBees is a sustainability consultancy providing practical strategies to help business and authorities operate more ethically and responsibly, and become better aligned with today's social, environmental and economic development needs.

We help organizations formulate strategies through transparency, responsiveness and compliance - engaging stakeholders, communicating with internal and external audiences and aiding in the continual improvement of sustainability objectives.

HOW WE DO IT

We do this by identifying key social and environmental impacts and creating strategies that are inclusive of public interest, knowledgeable of corporate and policy decision making, and honoring of the 3P's: People. Planet. Profit.

Expectations of how organizations conduct themselves are changing, those who have adopted ethical, responsible and sustainable practices are already seeing the benefits. If your organization is ready to benchmark its accountability, learn and embrace a responsible and sustainable way forward, we would love to hear from you.

EARTH DAY

Today we celebrate Earth Day, and it got me thinking, what are we actually celebrating, the planet, us living on the planet? Well maybe the two are mutually exclusive.
